Many thanks

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to make known my objection to the proposed Aquind Inter Connector Cable project, in particular the intended route through the allotments at Milton Piece and Eastney Lake in Portsmouth.

There has been little meaningful consultation and the initial information has recently been altered, with insufficient opportunity for the local communities involved to voice their concerns.

There are clearly alternative routes for the cable that would cause considerably less disturbance, not just for allotment holders but for all the residents of Portsmouth who would be affected by the disruption to one of the three roads on and off Portsea Island.

Portsmouth is the most densely populated city in the UK outside of London with less greenspace per person than most cities in the UK. The restricting of access to the valuable green spaces of the allotments and Milton Common, also affected in the development, demonstrates the thoughtless conceit that has gone into drawing up these so-called plans.

For these and many other reasons I submit my strong objection to this ill-conceived proposal.

Yours faithfully,

Tim Head
