Recent serious crash at Barrey Road

There has been another serious crash at the Mersham junction with the A20.

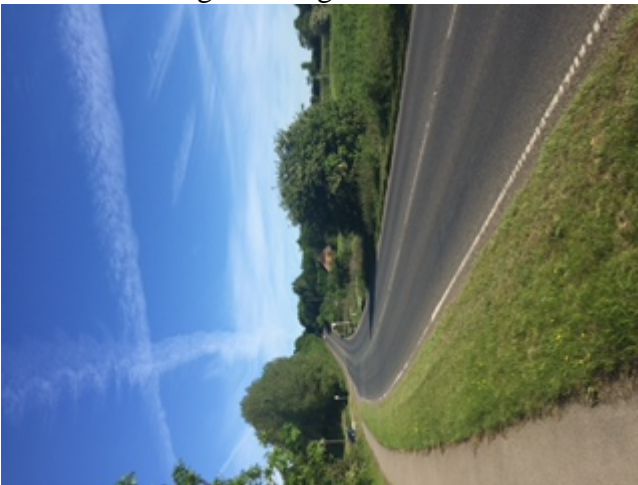

These images relate to the Kingsford Street Bridge junction with the A20 showing the danger of crossing.

End of footbridge looking east

End of footbridge looking west

Opposite side of road showing Bockham Lane and bus stops

Opposite side of road showing poor visibility of crossing zone

Reducing speed is not enough to make the game crossing safe.

Bus stop looking west, as shown in view 19 of the site tour documents, the crossing point would be just around the bend where road disappears from sight.
