Dear ExA,

You state the following in your recent communication dated the 25th June 2021.

“The ExA considers that the Additional Submissions made by the Applicant to date set out the process and broad scope for updating Application documents and as such has decided that they do not constitute a material change. The ExA will consider whether the updated and new documents set out in the Applicant’s letter of 12 May 2021 cumulatively amount to a material change as and when they are submitted. The ExA will also consider the need for further consultation and any implications for the pre-Examination and Examination periods as and when the Applicant submits any updated or new documents.”

Please could you clarify the following - if in the event the ExA find the updated and new documents set out in the Applicant’s letter of 12 May 2021 to cumulatively amount to a material change, will the ExA request the Applicant to re-submit and if not, what action will the ExA envision taking?

Kind regards

Vicky Ellis
