Dear Sir/Madam

I am listed as an interested party for the Sizewell C examination and I intend to participate to the greatest of my ability. However, I am also registered as an interested party in the Scottish Power Renewables (SPR) EA1N and EA2 examinations. The EA1N and EA2 examinations were supposed to finish on the 6th April and we were repeatedly told by the Planning Inspectors that this date was fixed. Inexplicably the examination has now been extended by 3 months and this will severely hamper my ability to participate in any meaningful way in the first stage of the Sizewell C hearing as these things are very time consuming.

What do the Sizewell C planning inspectors think about having examinations on three major infrastructure projects in the same area running simultaneously? Many of the people listed as interested parties for the Sizewell C project are also interested parties in the EA1N and EA2 projects.

I am very concerned about the strain this is putting on local people who are keen to put forward their views about projects that have the potential to have a significant impact on our local area.

I look forward to receiving your comments.

Yours faithfully

Louise Fincham
