

The proposal for increased rail freight will cause intolerable disturbance to local residents living alongside the railway. The amount of road freight remains excessive and inappropriate. The provision for sea freight remains inadequate, increased shoreline infrastructure is required to enable a large increase in sea freight delivery and unloading.

The entire project remains a "white elephant" which will cause irreparable damage to a beautiful and unspoilt region, to create a nuclear facility that will be largely obsolete by the time it is completed, due to the growth in true green energy over the construction years.
