Wrong project ,wrong place.

Too expensive and slow and tax payers expected to pay as no-one else prepared to take the risk. Industrialisation of Suffolk which threatens its already successful tourism /heritage economy. Not green-doesn't work well with renewables as too inflexible. Nuclear waste disposal unresolved and around for centuries on an eroding coast with rising sea levels-appalling inheritance for our descendants and not necessary we have the means to create a renewable energy system with battery storage, smart metering, heat exchange , wind and solar. With gas as back up in extreme circumstances. Water supply unresolved even now -with future water shortages to look forward to in Suffolk anyway with global warming.

No to Sizewell C
