Dear Planning Team,

Please register my objection to the SizewellC project. It is utterly appalling that one of the most precious bird sanctuaries and coastal nature areas in the England should be threatened by such a huge building project. Future generations will never forgive us for spoiling such a unique spot. Furthermore, every expert that I have consulted confirms to me that the nuclear technology which SizewellC is based on will soon be redundant and succeeded by smaller, more flexible and economical technology.

Yours sincerely,

Nicholas Bell
