It is my understanding that you will be shortly (within the next 3 1/2 months) be making a recommendation to the BEIS Secretary of State regarding Sizewell C.

I cannot understand how you can possibly make a determination without a better understanding of the implications on transport - primarily rail, but also road. There is no firm outline from the railroad as to how they will handle transporting goods - how many trains per day/week when they will run (day/night) what changes are proposed to accomodate this etc. Therefore how can you assess if the impact will be at an acceptable level?

I urge you to ask Sizewell to present a more concrete plan before you commit billions of pounds to the project.

Regards

Tracy
