The Dogger Bank Teesside A Offshore Wind Farm Order 2015 (as amended)

The Parent Companies, SSE and Equinor, of the Dogger Bank Teesside A Offshore Wind farm Project, herein 'the Project', have applied to the Secretary of State for Business, Energy, and Industrial Strategy for consent to make a non-material change (NMC) to the DCO (as amended) under section 153 of the Planning Act 2008. This letter is provided in accordance with regulation 7A of the 2011 Regulations as the Project's Consultation and Publicity Statement.

Please find enclosed (in Appendix 1), a copy of the notice published under Regulation 6 of the 2011 Regulations.

The Applicant confirms that:

1. As required under Regulation 6(1) of the 2011 Regulations, a notice publicising the application was placed in the Evening Gazette, Fishing News and the Coastal View and Moor News and was subsequently published on the following dates:

J-Sea crew rescued after five-hour ordeal

The three-man crew of the Devon scalloper J-Sea E 333 were rescued safely after being adrift in the North Sea for more than five hours, after the 13.95m vessel capsized in less than a minute, 75 miles northeast of Whitby, reports David Linkie.

Having left Grimsby around midnight on Monday, 25 May, skipper/owner Dominic Welsh, along with crewmen Geoffrey Mears and Gert Johnson, had just completed a four and a half day trip fished in the weather. They were underway at 8pm on Saturday, 30 May to land at Whitby the following morning, when without any warning, J-Sea listed heavily towards the starboard quarter.

The two crewmen on deck dived over the side. Unable to reach the VHF distress button, skipper Dominic Welsh jumped out of the wheelhouse seconds before J-Sea rolled over, within a minute of the first indication that something was wrong.

The three men were able to clamber onto the stem of the upturned hull. The angle the hull was lying at and the extremely slippery plating, together with the motion of the sea, made staying on the upturned hull extremely challenging, with the crew repeatedly sliding towards the stern as darkness closed in.

First herring of the year at Peterhead

The first North Sea herring of the year were pumped ashore at Peterhead last week by the local midwater vessel Lunar Bow, which was also landing her first shot of herring, having been completed by Karstensens shipyard in January, reports David Linkie.

During a short 32-hour trip fishing east of Shetland, Lunar Bow took two short tows before landing a small shot of herring in line with market requirements at Peterhead.

On sampling at the quayside, the early-season fish were immediately approved as being maatjes herring, as anticipated.

Maatjes herring are a highly prized local delicacy in Holland. The lightly brined raw fish have been interwoven into Dutch tradition for over 600 years.

Known in Holland as maatjes herring (maiden herring), fish accepted for the highly discerning maatjes market have to meet an exacting buyer specification, which includes a high fat content and a body shape associated with a fish that has yet to use any of its body resources for reproduction.

For the past 25 years, the Peterhead company Lunar Fishing has liaised closely with the well-known Dutch company Koelewijn Seafood BV to supply maatjes herring in line with niche market requirements in Holland. This successful in-house catching, processing and marketing association is based on delivering prime-quality fish with full traceability from the well-managed and sustainable MSC-accredited North Sea herring fishery.

Fishing News Awards celebrate industry success

▲ David Milne of Fraserburgh is the Demersal Fisherman of the Year.

▲ Sam Lambourn is the winner of the Lifetime Achievement Award 2020.

The announcement of the winners of the Fishing News Awards 2020 in a virtual presentation on 15 June marked the culmination of a process that started with the opening of nominations at the start of the year. At that point, none of us had any inkling of the pandemic that would overwhelm all of our plans for 2020 – not least the awards presentation, which was due to be held in Aberdeen on 14 May.

In the light of the challenges being faced by all in the industry and the tragedies suffered by many, it was felt that announcing the winners of the awards last month would be inappropriate. However, it is hoped that this virtual announcement of the winners will now provide an opportunity to celebrate their success, reflect on the industry's achievements in 2019, and look forward to better times.

Turn to pages 8-15 for our celebration of the 2020 award winners – and see page 13 for your chance to win one of the 150 selection boxes of top-quality seafood in a competition sponsored by the Scottish Fishermen's Federation.

Carers' Week: Young carer tells of life in the lockdown

It's fair to say that Maddi Joel was never short of something important to do – often involving providing crucial health care for her siblings – even before the lockdown.

For Maddi, just 16 and the eldest of eight children, helps care for her four-year-old sister, Pixie, with epilepsy, a baby and her two little brothers.

Now she is helping to teach her five-year-old sister school work until she can return to school.

Luckily, as well as her mum, Emma, and dad, Lee, who works full-time at a cable company, Maddi has her two other sisters, Makenzie, 15, and Mahlliah, 13, to help.

And she also has The Young Carers Group based at The Junction, a council-supported youth charity in her home town of Redcar.

"I love the Young Carers group, so much," says Maddi, who has agreed to help support and publicise national Carers' Week. "I've been going every month since I was ten and you can just play on an X-Box or chill. You can meet other young carers and it's where I met my best friend."

Maddi explained that the lockdown meant she has had a break from schoolwork as GCSEs are going to be assessed on mocks and coursework. However, she is still helping to teach her younger siblings, especially her five-year-old sister, Paisley, as they are still being given school homework.

"It never stops," smiles Maddi. "There's always like a million things to do. You have to know what to do if Pixie has a seizure, make sure everyone who has medication gets it, help get everyone to their appointments, cook, clean and then do your homework like everyone else. But, whatever happens, I want to do my A Levels next year, English Literature, Philosophy and Business Studies. After that, I don't know."

"Yes, she does know," laughs mum, Emma. "She wants to take over The Junction! She loves it there."

Emma is still breastfeeding her one-year-old and outlined the importance of Maddi keeping an eye on Pixie. "Pixie has to have someone with her if she goes to the toilet or just wants to go her room and read her book," explains Emma. "And Maddi will always step up. Maddi was due to be doing her GCSEs this year and so her sister, Makenzie, has been sitting with Pixie in the car on the way to school this year. The good thing is the primary school, St Benedict's, and the secondary, Sacred Heart, are right next to other, I don't know what we'd do without that."

Emma stressed that herself and Lee do all they can to ensure not much pressure is placed on their three eldest daughters.

"We are so proud of them," she says. "They are amazing. They very often put their social lives on hold. They're very patient, very kind and very understanding. But we let them know that they don't have the main responsibility. It's still their mum and dad."

• FAMILY TIME: Maddi with Pixie on her knee, Harrison, Mahlliah with Preston on her knee, Hadley, Makenzie (Paisley on her knee).

As she speaks her phone goes and noise erupts from the family home. Mum and daughter must go back to the hurly burly.

Eileen Cowle, Young Carers Services Co-ordinator at The Junction, said she was proud of Maddi. "She does so much and they're a wonderful family. Carers' Week is a really important date on the calendar. All carers are fantastic and need to be recognised and celebrated. But I sometimes think young carers can be forgotten a bit. They are extra special children and young people and we're so proud of each and every one of them."

Those sentiments were echoed by Councillor Alison Barnes, Cabinet Member for Children. She said: "It was lovely to learn of Maddi and her sisters who do so much to care for their siblings. They are truly fantastic. I'm so pleased that they attend the Young Carers Support service at The Junction and access the help that is available there. Redcar and Cleveland council recognise how important it is to ensure that our young carers have that space the Junction offers, for advice, peer support and fun activities. Carers week is an opportunity for us all to take a moment to remember people of all ages, who give so much time in their lives to care for others."

The Junction Foundation is a local charity commissioned by Redcar & Cleveland Council to provide a Young Carers Service to children, young people and their families who take on a caring responsibility. It is a support service providing family support, one-to-one emotional support, small focused group work, monthly social activities and school holiday activities. The Junction can be contacted at 01642 756000 or info@thejunctionfoundation.com

Our Ref:

Dear Sir/Madam,

Dogger Bank Teesside A Offshore Wind Farm Project – Non-material change application to the Development Consent Order

A non-material change (NMC) application has been submitted to the Secretary of State for Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy (BEIS), alongside a parallel application to the Marine Management Organisation to amend the relevant Deemed Marine Licences.

A NMC application has already been submitted for an increase in turbine rotor diameter and removal of the stated gross electrical output capacity of up to 1.2 gigawatts (currently awaiting determination) as well as a NMC application to reflect that the Sofia and Teesside A projects are being taken forward by separate project companies and make the necessary changes to the DCO to facilitate the delivery of the projects and clarify responsibilities (also awaiting determination).

A further NMC application is now being sought for the Project to increase the maximum hammer energy for monopiles from 3,000 kJ up to 4,000 kJ for the wind turbine generators. The amendments relate to the Dogger Bank Teesside A project only.

As set out within the application documents, these amendments will comprise “non-material” amendments as defined in the Planning Act 2008 and The Infrastructure Planning (Changes to, and Revocation of, Development Consent Orders) Regulations 2011 (as amended) (“the 2011 Regulations”).

You are being formally consulted by the Project on these changes as you were previously consulted about the DCO application and you may have an interest in the marine environment where the wind farm arrays will be located.

Alongside this letter, the email includes all of the application documents that have been submitted to BEIS. If you are unable to access the documents, it is also possible to access the documents on the National Infrastructure Planning Portal (Dogger Bank Teesside A and B Offshore Wind Farm page) here: <https://infrastructure.planninginspectorate.gov.uk/projects/yorkshire-and-the-humber/dogger-bank-teesside-a-sofia-offshore-wind-farm-formerly-dogger-bank-teesside-b-project-previously-known-as-dogger-bank-teesside-ab/?ipcsection=overview>. Click on the Documents tab and then click on Decided in the documents navigation area. They are also available on the project websites at <https://doggerbank.com/nmc-application/>

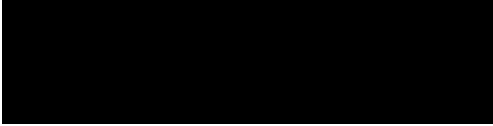

Please send any representations about the application by email to: DBTeessideAB@planninginspectorate.gov.uk or in writing to: Major Applications & Plans, The Planning Inspectorate, Temple Quay House, 2 The Square Temple Quay, Bristol BS1 6PN.
