Hi Richard,

I am happy that the EP is published. Apologies for taking a while to respond, I'm just returning from leave today.

None of the service levels outlined in the document should be seen as binding though, and I hope TLP understand this. We've offered options for securing resources but TLP are content with their current arrangement of accessing our limited resources on an ad-hoc, as-needed basis. It may not be available as requested.

Kind regards,

Ross
