Academy boss pay excessive, argues union

Chief at one chain running schools in the region paid nearly £300,000 a year

A union has said the salaries of some academy chains running schools in Essex and Suffolk is "excessive" – with one CEO taking home almost £300,000.

Despite a national pledge to reduce wage bills, some academy trusts pay top bosses more than the prime minister.

It includes departing Academies Enterprise Trust CEO Julian Drinkall – in charge

EMILY TOWNSEND
emily.townsend@archant.co.uk

of schools such as Clacton Coastal Academy – who took home between £285,000 and £290,000 in 2019/20.

REach2 Academy Trust, which runs Sprites Primary in Ipswich, paid its highest earner between £220,000 and £230,000 in 2019/20. Ormiston Academy Trust paid a top salary of £200,000-£210,000.

Trusts argue salaries are benchmarked against competitors and reflect the responsibilities involved.

But Graham White, of the National Education Union's Suffolk branch, labelled the sums "excessive".

SUMMARY OF THE PROJECT

The Application is for development consent for the construction and operation of the East Anglia ONE North Offshore Windfarm (East Anglia ONE North). The offshore windfarm would be located in the southern North Sea approximately 36 km from the Suffolk coast at its nearest point and would occupy an area of up to 203 km². The landfall connection works will be located north of Thorpeness in Suffolk, and the onshore substation and overhead line realignment works will be located in the vicinity of Grove Wood, Friston.

Development consent is required to the extent that the development is or forms part of a Nationally Significant Infrastructure Project (NSIP). The project consists of two linked NSIPs, namely (i) an offshore generating station; and (ii) overhead line realignment works, together with associated development. As the proposed offshore generating station is expected to have a capacity of over 100 MW, it is an NSIP for the purposes of section 14(1)(a) and 15(3) of the 2008 Act. Pursuant to sections 14(1)(b) and 16 of the 2008 Act, the installation of an electric line above ground in England is an NSIP unless it falls within certain exclusions. It is not anticipated that any of the exclusions would apply to the overhead line realignment works, and as such these works form a second NSIP. It is for these reasons that the project falls within the remit of the Secretary of State.

The Development Consent Order would, amongst other things, authorise:

- Up to 67 offshore wind turbines and their foundations;
- Up to one offshore meteorological mast and its foundations;
- Subsea cables connecting the wind turbines and the offshore platforms;
- Up to one offshore construction, operation and maintenance platform and its foundations;

- Up to four offshore electrical platforms and their foundations;
- A network of subsea platform link cables;
- Up to two offshore subsea export cables to transmit electricity from the offshore electrical platforms to landfall located north of Thorpeness in Suffolk;
- Landfall connection works north of Thorpeness in Suffolk;
- Onshore cables commencing at landfall and running to the onshore substation in the vicinity of Grove Wood, Friston;
- A new onshore substation in the vicinity of Grove Wood, Friston;
- Overhead line realignment works in proximity to Grove Wood, Friston including permanent realignment of a short section of the northern and southern overhead line circuits including the reconstruction and/or relocation of up to two pylons and construction of up to one additional pylon in order to realign the northern overhead lines and the reconstruction and/or relocation of up to one pylon in order to realign the southern overhead lines;
- Temporary diversion of the northern and southern overhead line circuits;
- Construction of up to three permanent cable sealing end compounds (one of which may include circuit breakers) and underground connections;
- A new National Grid substation; and
- Associated development comprising such other works as may be necessary or expedient for the purposes of or in connection with the relevant part of East Anglia ONE North.
