Dear Sirs,

In recent months, I have been run ragged by a new job and getting in winter feed supplies for my farm.. consequently I overlooked my registration until this evening.

My interests are simple.. I have concerns, given the applicants response to questions regarding Vanguard, it's sister project, that it is deliberately postponing it's responsibilities under EN1 and EN5 by way of an almost complete lack of plans for anything other than a planted landscape to mitigate what are huge buildings proposed for the development, that will not reach maturity until after the useful life of the buildings concerned. I would like to see the applicant required to submit full Environment mitigation plans under EN1 and EN5, for the visual impact of the development and not rely solely on planted landscape, which given that the landscape planted for the dudgeon substation shall now be required to be partially grubbed up, shows how fragile such a plan can be.

I do hope that the Inspectorate will accept my deepest apologies for my tardy registration.

Best regards

Julian Pearson
