Please consider

The sun does not shine at night, therefore 12 hours approx each day no power is generated by solar.

The wind blows morning, noon and night. Offshore wind farms appear to have far less impact on communities and have the ability to generate power on a more constant basis.

The proposed site would cover almost the entire area of Kensington and Chelsea. That is a lot of wheat, potatoes, barley, onions, sugar beat, pork and other foodstuffs not being produced locally, would that mean importing these commodities to fill the shortfall?

Thank you for your consideration
