

It is clear that there has been little to no consideration about traffic management and impact to local highways.

There are other key infrastructure challenges, such as use of Network Rail power cables.

For me the biggest issue I have with this project is the use of land, large parts of the proposed site are productive arable farm land. Productive arable land, which is vital to our nations food security. There are other much more viable sites for a solar project of this size incl; warehouse roofs, side of motorways, disused airfields etc.
