

The small amount of electricity generated by this enormous 'development' are a major imbalance.

Solar can only generate for half it's life and not when we need it most.

Battery storage cannot be considered safe following the recommendations from the fire service.

The devastating consequences for wildlife and for local communities cannot be justified by a questionable government net zero policy.

In addition the impact on mental health for individuals at the prospect of this project and other adjacent projects cannot be overstressed.