

From: Mary Foster

Received: 14 Nov 2023

I am worried that not only are solar panels taking up valuable green space but they are very ugly!

To look out onto green fields is calming and beautiful and I fear this pleasure and beauty will be lost. Animals cannot graze around or under the panels as the intense shade caused by them will prevent plant growth. Wildlife will be lost as a result also. With the many numerous housing estates being built then surely solar panels on these new roofs is a better option?