

It has been commented that the benefits must out way the substantial costs in this project. It is essential that an independent third party research all aspects of the claims of benefits made by the applicant as their own figures appear to be woefully inflated to their benefit.