

This whole thing is a travesty. The vast majority of residents are against and this elongated multi stage process requires us to continually reject it even though we have already expressed this many times. It's a terrible use of arable land, disturbing vegetation may have a serious impact on flood and drainage - even if only during construction. The scale is unprecedented and thus brings unquantifiable risks. If this is passed it makes a mockery of democracy and or planning.