

I object to any planning permission being granted for The West Burton solar farm on the grounds of industrial use of arable land which is much needed for the growing of food to enable the UK to produce more of its own food for our ever increasing population.

I also object on the grounds of large scale industrialisation of the landscape to the detriment of people living in the area and visitors especially if construction is allowed.

Recent World events have well illustrated how much we need our own food supplies with climate change a further huge concern for agriculture
