To who it may concern

My name is Mark Wardle and I am a resident of Marton village and my reference is 20037387.

I wish to reiterate my previous objections against the proposed development.

I wish to make you aware of the difficulties to make any objections to the development.

I speak to a lot of local residents and update them about what is going with the planning process as much as I can. Unfortunately I hear the same complaints every time about how difficult and confusing the process is when trying to make any objections against the development. As you can appreciate rural communities have a large percentage of elderly residents with no access or understanding of the internet so they are unable to make any form of formal representation to your good selves, so unfortunately their voices are going unheard. I believe the developers professional planning representatives are well aware of this issue and this has given them an unassailable advantage in perusing their objectives. This point I am making is also relevant to all the other solar developments planned for this area.

Kindest regards

Mark Wardle
