

Farm land removal will devastate the food supply. Affects all associated workers in farming. The efficiency of such large areas taken up with many panels devastating the local area. The harm to humans and wildlife. Safety of batteries collecting the energy is not acceptable. Fire risk is great and they cannot be extinguished when on fire. It is not technology suitable on a large scale. The farmers cannot put sheep on these due to chewing wires. Pollution risk the list is endless. A very dangerous long term project. Not suitable today or a legacy for future generations.
