

I make further opposition to the wholesale destruction to this part of the world by this current obsession with solar panels on farmland. I have just seen IGPs footage (C8.2.12) of the 4 proposals at Gainsborough.

Is there really any case for debate here? Just awful and unproportional. This would destroy the area and would create a wasteland and for what exactly?

This has the potential to become the largest planning error ever made. I do not think this should have got this far. There is definitely a flaw in the current system.

I pray that an informed and intelligent decision is made, and an improved planning system is put in place.
