

I refer to C8.2.12

This footage is inaccurate, as it fails to show the RES solar scheme around the West Burton power station, this scheme is very close to the others shown on the video.

The total land take is over 12,000 acres. This area of Lincolnshire and Nottinghamshire will be unnecessarily industrialised to a level never seen before anywhere, and for no substantive reason. The electrical output would be modest, and the detriment significant.
