

I live in the affected area. I'm concerned about the loss of farmland. In this uncertain world I believe that we need to be as self sufficient regarding food, as possible. Solar panels are needed, I understand that, but they should be put on top of buildings not on the land. I'm also greatly concerned about the impact on our local roads that this will cause for a number of years. Our rural roads cannot take the amount of traffic generated by construction traffic etc. They are too small and narrow and in bad repair as it is. This whole project needs to be scrapped and re thought. It will decimate the countryside around here. Ruin people's lives.

There must be another way. Eg put panels on roofs on industrial estates, farm buildings, schools, government buildings etc.
