Dear Kathrine

RE: Brechfa Forest Connection Project

Following receipt of delayed HoTs many clients have expressed concerns of the visual intrusion to their properties especially where the line has been moved and considerable introduction of H poles has taken place without landowners knowledge or agreement.

I understand that there is a computerised system which allows landowners to view the visual impact of their retained properties. This would be a helpful tool in enabling my clients to determine the impact of the scheme on their retained properties during the HoTs negotiations.
