Subject: flood risk to Puddledock House
Date: 03 August 2016 12:02:44

Hello Chris

Following the open floor hearing and awaiting NG's response to my concerns about potential flooding to our house, I have been studying the Flood Risk Assessment done by National Grid and note that Puddledock House, our house, is not listed as a potential receptor for flooding. This is probably because it wasn't built at the time of the Risk Assessment. However, I believe it is a high risk receptor according to the plan on P117 of the assessment.

Not sure if this point is acceptable at this stage but hope this can be addressed by NG

Best wishes

Christine
