To Whom it may concern,

I am writing to express my strong objections to the Aquind proposal, it simply cannot be allowed.

This proposal is a classic example of Tory corruption with no benefit for the UK public, I object for the following reasons:

Installing another power connector to mainland Europe only strengthens our reliance on outside sources.

This has already been proven to be a corrupt conflict of interest with Tory MP's and members benefiting financially YET AGAIN.

We should instead be tapping into Scottish wind farms that the tax payer is currently paying to switch off when the grid is overloaded.

The disruption the works would cause would be catastrophic and detrimental to all living in and around Portsmouth. Access to the Island is already insufficient and this would worsen it.

The project would ruin the local landscape and force natural areas to close.

The project has no support in England or France and the residents decision must be respected.

If the this project is approved it will just signal another greedy Tory sell off that leaves the country worse off.

James Millard
