I strongly oppose to Aquind tearing through Portsmouth, this will be a horrendous upheaval for Milton residents and the wildlife that has been situated here for many decades. There is also the political aspect, that aquind based in France is owned by Russia, do we really want to put our energy supplies at risk by a country that has a history of pulling the plug when they don't get their own way. This is blatantly happening now. The Government of course has already received monies from Russia, which is why the original denial has been overturned, thank you Boris Johnson. We cannot be beholding to other countries for energy or food supplies, find a solution to this countries needs, Nicoli Tesla, discovered cold fusion, why are we not looking into this source, its easy to supply and create. The people need to be listened too. Dear government please don't forget that you are elected by the people for the people. I for one are fed up to the back teeth of the playground mentality the all political parties practice, so stop the slagging off and put your energies into finding solutions.
