I am objecting yet again to the plan of Aquined causing mayhem by digging up all the way through Portsmouth to lay an electricity cable causing absolute mayhem in this tiny city....

This has already been refused by the previous minister Kwasi Kwarteng – apart from an awful lot of people that live in Portsmouth both Labour and Conservative MP's are against this plan.

Yet in tonight's Portsmouth Newspaper, Flick Drummond, the MP for the Meon Valley, has already written to yourself and is against this plan.

It has been rejected once so please reject it again and let it be dead and buried!
