Dear Planning inspectorate,

I would like to object to the Aquind inter-connector, and I would like to receive acknowledgement that you have received my email.

This inter-connector is not needed. We have enough elsewhere in the UK. Surely we should be trying to be self-sufficient with our own renewable energy. The UK is one of the windiest countries in the world. Hornsea two off-shore wind farm is now fully operational.

Aquind could invest in more home-grown renewable energy, instead of this inter-connector. Does not Portsmouth have some sea to make another wind, tide, or wave energy generator instead?

Much obliged
Claire Beadnell
