To whom it may concern,

I am writing to object again, to this project and to add that:

- I have been disappointed with the way things have been filed and that I could not find Portsmouth City Councils report so this could be detrimental to our case if their response is not where it should be
- We still do not know why Lovedean has been chosen when there were alternatives that that would not trash the most densely populated City in Britain, and cause gridlock in Portsmouth
- I am at a loss how the decision to overturn the previous decision by Kwasi Kwarteng was based on a fact that the cable will landfall in France at Le Havre. It has been recorded, and our friends in France also believe that the landfall will be at Hautot-sur-mer, which is miles east of Le Havre, so if this was an important consideration then it is incorrect. The nearest interconnector should be Ninfield.

The Facts

9. The interconnector is intended to bring electricity from France to link into the UK network. The nature of the project is that neither end point is fixed. In broad terms the elements of the project are the exit point on the French coast; the subsea cable; the landfall site in the UK; and the substation which allows the interconnector to link into the UK high voltage power network. Two important considerations in the planning of the scheme were the cost of the cable, and therefore the desirability of minimising length; and the need to minimise the crossing of busy shipping lanes. These factors, amongst others, led to a location near Le Havre for the landfall in France.

Other problems I perceive is where is the missing feasibility study of 2014/2015 for Mannington as this is now a feasible option, why is the Fibre Optics cable allowed when it is not essential for a NSIP, and why are we still even discussing a project that will have such a detrimental effect of the people.

Yours sincerely,

Mrs H Lyness
