I am annoyed that we are yet again having to put in an objection. The city of Portsmouth has already had to have ongoing works to a portion of the proposed route and it has caused so much chaos to our small city. The disruption proposed by aquind will be devastating. We have only 3 viable routes on and off portsea island, because we are the most densely populated city and island in the UK, and aquind will disturb us in a major way. This can be seen by the fact all our local politicians are in agreement that this needs to be moved to a differing route. And to be frank. With all the war going on, running power from another country is irresponsible. We should be creating our own.
