Comment:-

If gas storage is needed, it should be built away from towns, up hill or on land. And should there be an accident, where there is more than one road out to evacuate people, should this same gas be stored along with the Gas drilling on the foreshore, Properties will be worthless.

In addition I am extremely concerned that the go-ahead has been given for "fracking" not too far away from the storage site. It is accepted that "fracking" is to probe cause recent earth tremors which could possibly also destabilize the geology of the Storage sites.

A company that continues making planning applications after having THREE turned down must be drawn by sheer greed. Is it a joke that they change their name to try a fourth time. The area which would be affected by an accident would affect 2 to 3 hundred thousand people.

Comment: How many times will this company - in whatever name it is trading in - continue to submit the same fundamentally flawed plans? Still unlined caverns in an area ripe with faults, with the potential to cause massive and irreversible damage, death and destruction? Last year this area had at least 2 earthquakes - what happens if there is an earthquake around the site of these caverns? Say no, mean no!

I am requesting the Protect Wyre Group to present this letter to you as part of their evidence as I wish to register my objection to the proposed scheme to store natural gas under the River Wyre estuary for the following reasons.

Please

☐ The Unsuitable Geology of the Preesall Salt
☐ Gas Migration Risk to Fleetwood, Thornton & Cleveleys
☐ Gas Migration Risk to Over Wyre Villages
☐ Potential for a Well Head Explosion
☐ Evacuation of Thornton / Fleetwood Peninsula & Over Wyre
☐ The Scheme would provide a New Terrorist Target
☐ Ecological Damage from Discharge of the Brine at Rossall

☐ Long Term Effect on House Prices and Insurance

Comment: This hare-brained scheme is a major disaster waiting to happen, who knows what would be the result of an explosion with so much gas involved? A leak, one spark, it must be stopped for good!!

A strong reason for my leaving the North Fylde Area a few years ago was the threat of a similar proposal by Enalxx. Any extra traffic on the roads would make living here and commuting to Chorley too time-consuming & Halite Energy could destroy the area.

Re: The Halve Energy proposal to store gas under the River Wyre Estuary

I wish to object to this proposal as I did to the previous Culver proposals. I still feel strongly that the residents of Wyre Borough Council should not have to live in fear of the potential hazard they are proposing. We would have no chance of being warned in time to move to safety if an accident or terrorist attack should happen. Gas migration must be a risk and no scientist or government could rule that out.

Comment:-
The fracking in the area has already caused minor earthquakes and it is clear that this has created cracks through which gas or pressure could escape. Also the old salt mines were shut down and the complete roof of the tunnels fell in, leaving brine pools at Hambleton. Removing the salt bed could create more structural weaknesses in the tunnels and caverns, and if the cave roof should collapse it would release millions of cubic meters of gas into the air, exploding and creating a fireball of biblical proportions.

Comment:
Greatly concerned over gas escape/explosions that could occur because of the fissured ground strata existing under the Wyre Estuary. This scheme would put at risk thousands of properties along the whole length of the Fylde/Wyre coastline. It would also be a very tempting target for terrorist attacks.

Comment: I am amazed that anyone can consider storing gas in causals under the River Wyre which is surrounded by thousands of homes. The geology is unsuitable as there are numerous faults in the area; and now with the proposed fracking which has already caused two earthquakes in the area I feel that this is a disaster waiting to happen.

Comment:-

I have nothing against gas storage so long as it's done properly. They're still too many unanswered questions concerning this proposal and the fact that no lining is going to be put in place makes the scheme far too risky so near an area where people live.

Comment:

The Preesall Salt is shallow in comparison with other salt beds used for storage. It is also in the form of a new, shallow bed toward edges of field (model exhibited by Canataxi, Inc. readmission of halite). There is also a shale gas fracking project within 5mi. Minor tremors must impact the Preesall Salt.

Comment:-
* Many homes on both sides of the river are within 1 mile of the proposed site.
* Mudstone fault under the Wyre brings salt bed adjacent to the porous sandstone. Gas can pump into sandstone and travel miles rising to the surface around properties.
* Positive pressure by pumps is the only device keeping the gas stable. If the pumps fail an explosion will ensue.

☑ Gas Migration Risk to Fleetwood, Thornton & Cleveleys
☑ Gas Migration Risk to Over Wyre Villages
☑ Potential for a Well Head Explosion
☑ Evacuation of Thornton / Fleetwood Peninsula & Over Wyre

Comment: The Government has a duty of care to the people of Britain. Allowing this project to go ahead would be reckless. The recent gas leak from the North Sea platform has resulted in a 3 mile exclusion zone for planes and shipping. Thousands of people live and work within 3 miles of this project. The gas would be stored just metres from the nearest buildings. This scheme has been refused several times over the past 10 years with good cause. The scheme has been revised several times but it is blatantly obvious that the high risks to the population are unacceptable.

Comment: From an ex IC employee

Geographically the proposed site is unsuitable and unstable owing to several defunct brine wells test by TCI in the area listed by Holite Energy. (Can't see)

In my opinion these people should not be allowed to store gas because of the accident in America. Can't these people live NO for an answer. Do they have to change their name each time they are allowed to apply.

Comment: I feel very strongly over this. Obviously the reasons are clear to anyone why. It’s just a safety hazard. The chances of an explosion, gas leaks, the whole threat to all the residents is not acceptable. It’s our home so we should not have to accept this - ever. So I dont want this, nor does anyone who I know. So no!

Comment:

1. If "fracking" in the Fylde were to be sanctioned, with the probability of earth tremors, then damage to the salt bed is a distinct possibility, given the brittle nature of crystalline salt.
2. The wilful waste of a valuable natural resource, namely salt, just to create caverns underground is criminal.
3. What happens to these caverns in the future when they are no longer needed for gas storage???

If gas storage is needed, it should be built away from towns up above an ocean. And should there be an accident, where there is more than one road out to evacuate people should the same go ahead along with the Gas drilling in the Tyne. Properties will be worthless.

Dear Sirs

Preesall Saltfield Underground Gas Storage

I am requesting the Protect Wyre Group to present this letter to you as part of their evidence as I wish to register my objection to the proposed scheme to store natural gas under the River Wyre estuary for the following reasons.

Please check:

☑ The Unsuitable Geology of the Preesall Salt
☑ Gas Migration Risk to Fleetwood, Thornton & Cleveleys
☑ Gas Migration Risk to Over Wyre Villages
☑ Potential for a Well Head Explosion
☑ Evacuation of Thornton / Fleetwood Peninsula & Over Wyre
☑ The Scheme would provide a New Terrorist Target
☑ Ecological Damage from Discharge of the Brine at Rossall
☑ Destruction of Countryside and Wild Life
☑ Impact on Recreational Use & Landscape
☑ Long Term Effect on House Prices and Insurance

Comment:-

In addition I am extremely concerned that the go-ahead has been given for "fracking" not too far away from the storage site. It is accepted that "fracking" is a probable cause for recent earth tremors which could possibly destabilize the geology of the Storage sites.

Comment:-

A company that continues making planning applications after having THREE turned down must be shown by sheer greed. Is it a joke that they change their name to try a fourth time. The area which would be affected by an accident would affect 2 to 3 hundred thousand people.

I am very concerned that the fracking and the gas storage could be a recipe for disaster for us along the Fylde Coast.

And what about the valuation of our homes. Not to mention not being able to get insurance.

Comment: How many times will this company - in whatever name it is trading in - continue to submit the same fundamentally flawed plans? Still unlined caverns in an area ripe with faults, with the potential to cause massive and irreversible damage, death and destruction? Last year this area had at least 2 earthquakes - what happens if there is an earthquake around the site of these caverns? Say no, mean no!

Comment:-

A strong reason for my leaving the North Fylde Area a few years ago was the threat of a similar proposal by Enalxx. Any extra traffic on the roads would make living here and commuting to Chorley too time-consuming & Halirke Energy could destroy the Area.

Talking to marine biologists has made me concerned about the large amount of brine that would be discharged into sea, relatively close to our shoreline.

Re The Halite Energy Proposal to store
gas under the River Wyre Estuary

I wish to object to this proposal as I did to the previous Carnon proposals. I still feel strongly that the residents of Wyre Borough Council should not have to live in fear of the potential hazard they are proposing.
We would have no chance of being washed in time to move to safety if an accident or terrorist attack should happen. Gas migration must be a risk and no scientist or government could rule that one.

Comment:- The fracking in the area has already caused minor earthquakes and it is clear that this has created cracks through which gas at pressure could escape. Also the old salt mines were shut down and the complete roof of the tunnels fell in, leaving brine pools at Hambledon. Removing the salt bed could create more structural weaknesses in the tunnels and caverns, and if the cave roof should collapse it would release millions of cubic meters of gas into the air, exploding and creating a fireball of biblical proportions.

Comment:-
Greatly concerned over gas escape/explosions that could occur because of fissured ground strata existing under the Wyre estuary. This scheme would put at risk thousands of properties along the whole length of the Fleetwood/Wyre coastline. It would also be a very tempting target for terrorist attacks

Comment:- I am amazed that anyone can consider storing gas in caverns under the River Wyre which is surrounded by thousands of homes. The geology is unsuitable as there are numerous faults in the area, and now with the proposed fracking which has already caused two earthquakes in the area I feel that this is a disaster waiting to happen.

Comment:- My husband and I bought our house in 1962, we brought up our children within the area. We have always recognized the area as a family environment. My husband died in 2012 and left the house to me. I am now a widow of 73 and live alone. I am very upset that the plans for the underground storage will affect the area I have lived in for so long. This is a wonderful and peaceful area with many places of outstanding natural

The Preesall Salt is shallow in comparison with other salt beds used for storage. It is also in the form of a DISN (shallow) towards edges of field (model exhibited by Canatax, Inc predecessor of Halite). There is also a shale gas (fracking) project within 5 miles. Minor tremors must impact the Preesall Salt.

Comment:- When in the USA, CAMAXA HAD THE GAS EXPLOSION THE COURTS TOLD THEM NEVER TO STORE GAS IN BUILT UP AREA. THE USA IS LARGER THAN GB. BRITAIN. SURELY THERE IS BETTER PLACES IN THE USA. SO WHY ARE THEY TRYING TO BUILD GAS STORAGE OVER HERE IN A BUILT UP AREA. OUR BEACHES IN BLACKPOOL & FLEETWOOD ARE POULTED ENOUGH.

Disaster Throughout recent history, from nuclear tragedies at Chernobyl to Fukushima, the oil rig tragedies of Alpha Pup to the 9/11 and 7/7, were all declared to have had every possible mischance avoided and eliminated. I keep it happening. The truth is that the possibility of catastrophe can never be ruled out. Therefore, the necessary precautions must be to create such

As a graduate Chemist I am well aware of the potential hazards this operation could cause. It is far too close to population centres which are currently expanding & an increasing number of people could be affected if any incident occurred.

In the past we were affected by incidents at ICI which were far less hazardous than the storage of gas under pressure.

I report my question, if gas storage is safe, will reputable British insurers provide third party liability at low cost? This should be a condition of any licence to store gas. Also has an engineer's report been filed reference local fracking for Shale Oil / Gas?

I am requesting the Protect Wyre Group to present this letter to you as part of their evidence as I wish to register my objection to the proposed scheme to store natural gas under the River Wyre estuary for the following reasons:

- The Unsuitable Geology of the Preesall Salt
- Gas Migration Risk to Fleetwood, Thornton & Cleveleys
- Gas Migration Risk to Over Wyre Villages
- Potential for a Well Head Explosion
- Evacuation of Thornton / Fleetwood Peninsula & Over Wyre
- The Scheme would provide a New Terrorist Target
- Ecological Damage from Discharge of the Brine at Rossall
- Destruction of Countryside and Wild Life
- Impact on Recreational Use & Landscape
- Long Term Effect on House Prices and Insurance

Comment:- The fact that this would be such a long-term potential danger to all our area makes all the above points valid for my generation and to leave this danger to my grandchildren is just not acceptable and any planned schemes should be scrapped.

Comment:- SAFETY CANNOT BE GUARANTEED.

The Geology of the Preesall salt beds are totally unsuitable for the proposed underground gas storage as it is split into many faults by which the gas could escape by migration. Even the covers would not be lined. Also, I am very concerned about the 50 million tonnes of rainwater-laden brine being dumped in the sea which would destroy the bird life and fish in the area.

The geology at the Preesall salt mines are unsuitable for gas storage also the risk of an explosion from gas leakage. There will be also ecological damage to the sea bed and fisheries if the fifty million tonnes of brine is pumped into it.

Having looked for information on the internet regarding this proposed project, finding very worrying reports, I cannot believe this project is being put forward, the close proximity to surrounding housing should be unthinkable.

Take a lesson from the USA.

Comment: I am extremely concerned about the unsuitability of the uninlined caverns which have been chosen to house such a dangerous substance as gas. Surely containers with so many flaws in their structure would never be approved for such closely built for storage of this nature. The safety and the lives of thousands of people in this area would be constantly at risk if this ill conceived scheme ever goes ahead.

Comment:- The owners of Halite Energy (formerly Unibaxx) have now spent years of negotiation, huge amounts of money attempting to have their plans approved to enclose their capital outlay. If their scheme is allowed to go ahead, there will be many miles away from this area when the predictable large scale explosion occurs.

As a resident, I feel strongly that they should not be allowed to gamble with the lives of the people of this area for profit.

Comment:— I am deeply concerned with Halite Energy's request to create 19 unlined caverns to store gas. It is a highly dangerous request and should not be granted. I am and never will be confident that the proposed storage facilities will be safe and believe that it's should never go ahead in such a densely populated area.

Storing gas in very close proximity to the "fracking" operations could cause a major disaster. It has been proved that the "fracking" operations can cause seismic movements and that occurs where gas is stopped, then we could be looking at a serious situation.

I don’t understand why a company can reinvent itself under a new name and make an application which has already been forcefully rejected two or three times!! It is time the law that allows this to happen is revised. We do not want natural gas here - ever!!

Comment:- I live in Sheltered Accommodation, the age group 60+ with many disabled or poorly mobile folk. The areas both sides of the estuary are predominantly older people, in any day, whom would not be able to evacuate themselves. Also how could the project be secured against terrorism? How do you fence of a river?

Comment: "Fracking is a new activity in the nearby vicinity which has begun since earlier proposals were put forward. This is itself is a worry but the impact of further underground work ie gas storage may further destabilise the local geology. Halflife are trying to wear down locals, councils and patience of money runs out. What on earth can be so significantly new in this latest plan to make residents earlier objections invalid?"

If there was a risk of an explosion then the road system of only one road in and out of this area would clog-up and cause panic and confusion. This is not the right area to put this gas — there are too many people living in a small radius.

Comment:-

I am very surprised that this company, using another name, is again pushing to get this this highly dangerous gas storage scheme through. I urge that this application is rejected. If this goes through it will place thousands of peoples lives at risk. Many people will face a future of living on top of or near an area with the potential of causing a huge blast. Like living with a huge bomb beneath them. I have read reports of huge explosions occurring in other countries with loss of life, with similar storage. This area is not the place for such a storage scheme. Please reject this application.

Comment:- As well as damage to the lovely over Wyre countryside if the authorities permit the use of fracking in this area to extract gas then surely it cannot be safe to store gas underground when it has been proven that fracking causes earth tremors.

Please check:

Comment:-

If Halite is successful in their application to store vast quantities of gas under the River Wyre and surrounding areas, it would be a catastrophe waiting to happen, and our properties would be worthless.

I say NO to their application, let them put the Gas in their own back yard.

Given the number of potential risks and detrimental factors to the residents of the area I am horrified that this issue is still ongoing. We still have local memories of what can happen when gas explodes underground (Abbeystead) if you multiply that hundreds of times this scheme should not even be on the table.

At Singleton, Poulton we lived (3-4 miles to this area) the process of 'fracking' has restarted. In the last 12 yrs this has already caused 2 minor earthquakes - felt as far away as Lancaster City!! This added to crack earth, cause toxic gas - a potential to crack earth & cause leaks & explosions

Comment:- After 34 yrs in the Nuclear Industry as an Analytical Chemist & chemical problems, I find the proposal seriously flawed in most areas. We always tried to decide what is possible and what can happen - how could this be avoided, and would the worst event be survivable? I see no answer to these possible problems hence to go ahead under any circumstances.

I totally oppose this gas storage proposal, especially at a time when the Govt are allowing drilling for shale gas, which through fracking causes multiple earthquakes. Gas storage or fracking are a disaster in waiting.

The safety of people must come first.

Comment: As a long-term resident of Preesall & after years of protesting against the implementation of gas storage within the Over Wyre community area, I stand by my objections to Halite’s & any other company’s gas storage schemes in this area & the potential risks to community health, standards of living & environmental impact. It is unfair to allow repeated attempts to set up schemes that would endanger our community.

My biggest concern is the risk of gas migrating from the storage caverns through the porous and faulted rock, and ending up in homes and workplaces.

The danger can only be made worse by the fracking at Singleton, with its likelihood of causing earth tremors.

Comment:- Now residing in Bolton, but living in Fleetwood for 20 years, making daily deliveries in the Area. Consequently, I regularly noticed ground collapses. Comment:-

Once a scheme has been refused permission, that should be the end of it. Don't keep applying until it is accepted. I am very disturbed at the risks involved. If health and safety took as much objection to this as they do for other things like climbing a ladder than they would stop this.

Comment:— I object because it is so near to the beautiful Over Wyre Villages, Rossall & Fleetwood doing ecological damage to rare plants & wild life. There would be leachant risk to the area & it would not be ring fencedtesting of the dangers. Why should we risk future generations with the destruction of the area and health hazards which would follow. NO WAY.

Comment:
Known geological faults exist in this area. Also subsidence is periodically reported from the old ICI Salt Mines. Now it is likely that go-ahead will be given to 'fracking' with further risk of earth movement.

We should be concentrating on improving sustainable resources. This project will support long term increases in CO2 rather than reductions needed. Too risky in populated area. This area is ideal for wind farms.

I use this area for walking and horse riding. The gas storage would have a BIG impact on the ecology of the area and increase in traffic. The danger of the mines being disturbed by fracking needs considering.

Outside of the National Parks we have very little wild areas of natural beauty left so why then do we have to ruin Burrows Marsh and Barnaby’s sands which also serve as havens for what little wildlife remains.

Comment:
All of the above are relative and significant to the proposal. My main concern is the location of the development within areas of population, considering the FACT that the quantity of gas to be stored has the equivalent energy potential of EIGHT MILLION TONNES of TNT! Noteworthy also, is the fact that Stag/Gateway already have permission to store 1.5 trillion cubic meters of gas in salt caverns out in the Irish sea, well away from any populated areas, as a viable alternative
