Dear Mr Scott,

Halite Energy Group – Proposed Underground Gas Storage Project at Preesall, Lancashire

I am writing to express my company's support for the above project.

Haslam Printers has been established in Lancashire for 60 years and recognises the importance of attracting major projects, such as the one proposed by Halite Energy, as key to ensuring investment in the local economy and creating jobs for local people.

Whilst momentum is building in the UK's recovery, the need to bring large infrastructure projects from the drawing board onto site is well documented. Halite's project represents an investment of the size of Wembley Stadium and its impact on Lancashire would be significant.

As a large printing business, our company is a relatively major user of energy. We have seen consistently rising costs for our energy supply in recent years which is a growing concern for any business, or indeed household. When you add the rising price of gas to the uncertainty in the global energy market, it seems clear to me that the UK needs to urgently invest in its energy resources. Halite's project would represent a step in the right direction towards future energy security in our country.

I hope that as a result of the redetermination DECC rules in favour of a consent for the project.

Yours sincerely

Neil Maguire
