Dear Iwan

I am unable to locate any documentation or a response from Bradford Council on the consultation exercise that took place by National Grid in September 2013. However, Bradford Council have been aware of the project prior to the recent submission, this may have been via the direct consultation sent in September 2013 or through other avenues.

As far as I am aware, Bradford Council made no comments at the pre-application stage.

Unfortunately, I am unable to formally confirm or deny that the duty to consult has been complied with, but in view of our knowledge of the application I would suggest, on balance, that the duty to consult has been adhered to.

Regards
Carole
