To Whom it May Concern

There are already severe concerns about the air quality in my local area of West Silvertown. So much so that local schools have considered keeping pupils indoors instead of letting them out at playtime and breaks.

Having a further road tunnel will certainly do nothing to improve this air quality, and of course will be very detrimental to it.

My own children, at the end of a school day in west Silvertown, blow their noses and have a black and grey tissue as a result. This does not happen when we are away from the area.

I do not want or condone any new build tunnel which will have a negative effect on the air quality that my family breathes every day.

In addition, the roads throughout the area are full to bursting. During morning and evening rush hours the roads are clogged with traffic. It has been proven in previous studies that the tunnel will do nothing to actually alleviate this. It will, instead, funnel even more road traffic into an overloaded system.

Money should be spent instead on creating further opportunities for DLR expansion and other travel options which do not negatively impact our lives in West Silvertown.

Best,
Frevisse Dearsley-Hitchcock
