Not happy with that tunnel so near to the ancient historical site of Stonehenge and its environs. This was a sacred place for our ancestors and it should remain so, and also for future generations too!

Who doesn't love to see the sun rise, it is deep within our human psyche as the Sun gives our planet life.

The ancients knew this, we know this as well and more besides.

So please preserve this monument in its own geo-space for eternity.

That huge expanse of land around it & the whole area does not need to be literally undermined by 20th & 21st century values about the importance of traffic...an emissions cloud in the bucket of history.....

there must be an alternative, think outside the box.....

Save Stonehenge, save the planet.□□

sincerely

Penny Simpson
