

From: [REDACTED]
To: A303 Stonehenge
Subject: relevant responses
Date: 30 November 2021 12:14:49

¿Relevant Responses?

Chilling enough in the implications...

tunnels should not go ahead.

If tacky useless or otherwise non-essential items from the likes of Amazon (insufficiently taxed...) and the myriad shopping channels (ditto...) need to go in the general direction of the A303 then

PUT THEM ON THE (ELECTRIC) RAILWAYS

For essential (and just what would your "inspectorate" (chilling enough) call essential?) items find alternative routes, close the 'official ear to the predictable howls from the usual moaners and close a 5, 10, 15, mile stretch entirely in the vicinity.

cheers

[REDACTED]