I am aware and delighted that the Transport Secretary's plans for this bypass have been rightly quashed.

Those plans represented an Act of International Archaeological Vandalism the like I have never known.

Especially appalling was the deliberate ignoring of the views of his own Expert Consultants clearly on the grounds of cheapness – SCANDALOUS!!!

Any future plans MUST, I repeat MUST, be :

In line with his Expert Consultants

Approved by International standards of Archaeological practice

Approved by UNESCO as a World Heritage Site

Plus any other Quality standards applicable.

It is TRULY reprehensible and shameful that this UK government sought to vandalise millennia of archaeological deposits in such a cheap and nasty manner.

ALL involved in this shabby scheme should be thoroughly ashamed of themselves and not fit for public responsibility in this matter

Yours Sincerely and furiously

Dr A R GREENWAY
