Dear Planning Inspectorate

As a layman with no expertise in road building , but having traveled on the A303 past Stonehenge many times I find it difficult to grasp that the Highways Agency have not explored other routes. I live in East Northamptonshire and a few years ago a 30 metre Henge was obliterated so a warehouse could be built, even though it was one of the most easterly Henges in the UK it's now gone forever. I can find no justification
