As a frequent traveller along the A303, I am often frustrated by the traffic hold-ups approaching Stonehenge. However, I don't see that a by-pass or tunnel would solve the problem. The cause of the hold up is due to the dual carriageway becoming a single carriageway and, unless any proposal includes the connection of the dual carriageway at Amesbury to the dual carriageway beyond Winterbourne Stoke, the hold-up will just be further along the A303.

Although I would welcome any reduction to the traffic hold-ups, the prospect of any damage to the the World Heritage site must be avoided at all costs.

Yours sincerely,

Geoff Leesley
