Dear Inspectorate,

The proposed plan for a tunnel past Stonehenge as has been said many times would be a waste of time and money when a far simpler method would achieve the same result, namely dual the existing road through Winterbourne stoke thus making dual carriageway from the existing dual east of stones to link up with the dual west of Winterbourne stoke. This method would be less intrusive, less damaging to archeology, more cost effective, quicker to complete. Also given that we all have to become less dependant on cars etc the road will be less used anyway. The nation does not need over complicated solutions to its problems.
