To Whom It May Concern

For a country that touts to the World of history, greatness, empire, with modern Tele shows of “Digging for Britain, Shorelines of England, etc.” touting the ‘greatest of the past’, are you willing to deny the ‘importance’ of the past to accommodate development of roadways, which bring about developmental destruction of YOUR history. You are putting YOUR environmental plans to encourage development of new builds springing up along the proposed roadway by destroying more of the little left of YOUR country and its’ past?

Would you be willing to widen the roads and encroach on ‘Buckingham Palace’ in the name of ‘Progress’?

For a small country, exclaiming a major role in preservation of history, environment, etc., denying the World Heritage in Your Country, is this proposal the reality and the afore the facade?

Be a Leader, Do as you Tout.

For Future Generations, Your Legacy is in YOUR hands, hopefully Not at the cost of the Past, or future.
