Dear Sir/Madam,

I can not believe that the government is still pressing ahead with this huge white elephant and environmental disaster within a delicate world heritage site.

The tunnel scheme at best will move the bottleneck a few miles west.

Amazing archaeological discoveries continue to be found in and around the area that would be most affected by the tunnel scheme.

The while go ahead for development should be reexamined and the scheme scrapped to stop any more money being wasted.

I live just to the north and would hate to see this scheme go ahead.

Yours faithfully,

Amy Gray
