To the Planning Inspectorate,

I am writing to ask you urgently to review your recommendations for the changes to the A303.

I am deeply concerned about the plans and the disastrous and irreparable impact that the proposed plans would have on this ancient World Heritage Site. It is also vitally important to remember that for many people this site is a place of great sacred importance, and must be respected and honoured as such. This site must be safeguarded at all costs. This is not a moment to cut corners for short-term perceived economic gain. Our ancient sites are priceless and must be preserved to the utmost of our ability for future generations.

In 2021 the Secretary of State found that the proposals would have a "significantly adverse" impact on the site. This is simply unacceptable. It is unthinkable that a solution cannot be found that deals with all the issues in a creative manner that is also environmentally supportive to the site and surrounding natural environment. There are always win-win solutions if there is a will, I refuse to accept that anything less is possible.

I trust that you will do all that is necessary to investigate all the challenges to the proposal and come to a decision that ensures the integrity of this unique and priceless part of our heritage - for the UK and for the world.

Yours,

Susanna Day Hamnett
