To whomever it concerns,

I am emailing to urge a re examination of the DCO in the light of ever greater concern for the impact of climate change, carbon emissions and of course significant cost increases for a scheme that will ultimately do irreparable damage to a unique and precious ancient site. Several alternatives have been proposed, all of which will require some inspired problem solving to realise but haven't the most inspired humans always risen to such challenges?

As a hugely important World Heritage Site the preservation of Stonehenge MUST remain the top priority and thus this 'significantly adverse' proposal must be replaced. The Government needs to be seen to be supporting a less damaging alternative.

Thank you for reading my email. I hope it will do its tiny bit and make a difference.
