Sir,

I wish to register my formal objection to the road widening of the A303 at Stonehenge.

This is an area of outstanding natural beauty and I believe a world heritage site. Stonehenge is known the world over.

If you can build a tunnel under the Devils Punch Bowl on the A3 at Hindhead to alleviate the traffic problems that the Hindhead Cross Roads caused, then it must be possible to build a deep enough tunnel to avoid disturbance of any important archaeological sites and buried artefacts.

If Thames Water can build a Super Sewer and TFL/Network Rail build cross link , both across London both taking important archaeological discoveries and artefact's into consideration the it cannot be beyond the realms of "we can do" this for The Department of Transport, or is it the fact that we the mere unwashed public dare to upset the status quo. After all politicians are supposed to carry out the will of us the public and over rule any disobedient civil servant even at the highest "Sir Humphrey" level.

Regards,

Richard Shervington.
