This incredible monument has existed for many centuries and attracts many visitors to see it, helping the economy of the area and ultimately the UK. Monuments such as this should be preserved and protected. Building the current planned road system can only harm and possibly eventually destroy such edifices owing to pollution from traffic (vibrations, fumes etc. etc.).

The increased cost of providing a road system that will not harm Stonehenge should NOT be taken into account. With increasing population, and need to provide work and food for the nation, too many of our treasured artifacts and monuments are being irreparably damaged. Damaging Stonehenge would be a step too far.

Please consider a better layout that will not have any detrimental effects on Stonehenge and its environment.

Thank you.
