To whom it may concern.

I have watched and read with mounting horror, your plans to destroy a piece of our history.

Stonehenge is unique, a site of exceptional interest and part of our English history.

Putting a road through it is desecration of the highest category.

Placing the road further south, would benefit everyone and save a special part of our history.

When I was a child, I visited Stonehenge many times with my family and it inspired me and started my love of history as I would hope it would do for many generations to come.

Thankyou H Amys.
