Dear Natasha Kopala,

Reference your letter 4th November 2020

We strongly urge you to maintain the full extent of replacement land contained within the scheme presented to the Planning Inspectorate earlier this year. Both the ratios and work plans, leading to biodiversity enhancements, are in front of you and were presented to the Planning Inspectorate. The support of local stakeholders for the scheme was founded on the full amount of replacement land being included within the proposals.

The replacement land areas will significantly increase biodiversity around an internationally protected wildlife site mirroring the approach of “bigger, better and more joined up” set out in Sir John Lawton’s 2010 seminal document “Making Space for Nature” and responded to in the government’s “The natural choice: securing the value of nature” White Paper of June 2011. Much of the content of these documents is now appearing in the Environment Bill.

The replacement land will help draw or deflect visitors from the core Special Protection Area site thereby reducing the pressure on the protected species that inhabit the heath.

All the best,

James
